BridgePoint Risk Management Announces Team Additions

MAUMEE, OH – BridgePoint Risk Management has added experienced personal and commercial insurance team members in Arizona, Connecticut, Florida and Ohio. The newly named property and casualty insurance agency is the result of a recent merger between NEBCO Insurance Services and TDC Risk Management. The addition of talent reinforces the firm’s progressive growth plans as it expands its reach from coast to coast.

“Our agency remains committed to a holistic consultative process and a personalized service experience for accomplished families and successful businesses across the country. Since the announcement of our merger we have received many inquiries from experienced insurance professionals who see the value of our national platform. We will continue to invest in new employees who share a similar passion for exceeding our clients’ needs, preferences and expectations,” said John Paolini, CEO.

David Coleman joins BridgePoint Risk Management with 11 years of industry experience; he will serve as the Personal Risk New Business Manager and work from the Palm Beach, FL office. Coleman previously was employed by one of the most successful high-net-worth insurance agencies in the nation. He will lead the agency’s personal insurance new business team, introducing new client solutions and maximizing production efficiencies. Coleman will be a key liaison between the agency and various insurance company underwriters.

“BridgePoint Risk Management is also committed to growing our commercial operations, delivering risk management services to private businesses large and small,” said Jim Schwarzkopf, Chief Sales Officer.

Tim Guitteau is a highly motivated, award-winning sales executive with over 26 years of experience. He brings valuable expertise in business development, risk management, commercial insurance, worker’s compensation and executive risk. Guitteau will serve as BridgePoint Risk Management’s Commercial Client Advisor operating from the Maumee, OH office. Tim has previously served clients in multiple industries including; aerospace, agriculture, warehousing, transportation and logistics, construction and wood product manufacturing.

Sylvia Remisiewicz joins BridgePoint Risk Management as a Commercial Lines Account Executive and will be stationed in the Greenwich, CT office. Sylvia brings over 14 years of experience in business insurance along with a strong orientation for client service. She will manage a wide range of commercial accounts across the United States.

Synda Sallee joins our Phoenix, AZ office as a Commercial Lines Account Executive. Synda has 20 years of experience providing insurance solutions to her business clients. Prior to joining BridgePoint she worked with a wholesale brokerage agency. Synda will serve commercial accounts primarily in the western United States.
